Thirty-two samples from contacts who have completed the follow-up since their first encounter with a confirmed case, will be tested on Wednesday 15th April 2020.
South Sudan has four (4) confirmed cases.

The High-Level Taskforce also listened to a briefing from the Central Equatoria State Ministry of Health and the Juba City Council on the State's Preparedness and Response Plan and the social impact of reorganisation of markets and public transport system on the people's livelihoods, and the impact of the restrictive measures on institutions of learning and public utilities.

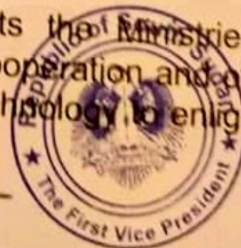

The High-Level Taskforce takes note of the concerns of the Ministry of Education and Instruction compounded by the stigma the general public attaches to the Coronavirus Disease.

The High-Level Taskforce re-iterates that the decision to close pre-schools, schools, universities, health science institutes and all other institutions of learning, was necessary as a precautionary measure, and to protect our children against the COVID-19 Disease.

The High-Level Taskforce reassures the public that Nurseries, Schools, Universities, Health Science Institutes and all other institutions of learning, public or private, shall not be used as temporary quarantine centres for COVID-19 victims.

The High-Level Taskforce directs the Ministries of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation and of the Higher Education, Science and Technology to enlighten
